Description

Introductory description

PH335-15 Hegel in Context

Module aims

To introduce students to the thought of Hegel in the context of certain thinkers who influenced him and / or were influenced by him.

Outline syllabus

This is an indicative module outline only to give an indication of the sort of topics that may be covered. Actual sessions held may differ.

This module will concentrate on key works by G.W.F. Hegel (normally the Phenomenology and Philosophy of Right). Topics that will be covered may include, for example, Hegel's account of desire and recognition, of the master / slave dialectic and of freedom in civil society and the state. The study of Hegel may be preceded by the study of other German Idealists, such as Fichte, or it may be followed by the study of thinkers profoundly influenced by Hegel, such as Marx or Kierkegaard.

Learning outcomes

By the end of the module, students should be able to:

- understand and differentiate arguments and views in the philosophies of Hegel and other figures studied, and offer relevant support for and critical responses to those arguments and views
- isolate the important claims within readings, understand the structure of arguments, test views for strengths and weaknesses, make pertinent use of examples, and compare the substance of views consistently.
