

PO203-15 Politics of International Development

21/22

Department

Politics & International Studies

Level

Undergraduate Level 2

Module leader

Briony Jones

Credit value

15

Module duration

10 weeks

Assessment

100% coursework

Study location

University of Warwick main campus, Coventry

Description

Introductory description

This module is about what international development means, how it comes about, and what kinds of life it makes possible.

It will unpack the different ways in which 'development' has been theorised. In doing this, it provides a chronological overview of key intellectual interventions and how they responded to - and informed - 'real world' changes.

Module aims

This module aims to:

- Introduce you to issues pertaining to the politics of development;
- Provide you with an overview of the literature in this field;
- Encourage you to sift through relevant materials, make an argument, and defend it by presenting your views in seminars and written work;
- Provide a space in seminars for critical thinking on the politics of development.

Outline syllabus

This is an indicative module outline only to give an indication of the sort of topics that may be covered. Actual sessions held may differ.

TBC

Learning outcomes

By the end of the module, students should be able to:

- Familiar with both the main theoretical arguments and key substantive issues central to the politics of development
- Gained knowledge of different trajectories of social, economic and political development in particular developing countries
- Able to assess the various models of development and state, explain and defend your preferred model
- Able to conduct high-quality research on issues of development, utilizing print, database and web resources, as well as key statistical indicators of development
- Able to present your theoretical and empirical work in a coherent manner – both verbally in seminars, and through your written work

Indicative reading list

TBC

View reading list on Talis Aspire

Subject specific skills

Knowledge of international development theory, actors and policy

Transferable skills

The module provides students with opportunities to acquire or develop the following key skills:

- Independent and critical thinking
- Cogent writing and considered dialogue
- Intercultural awareness

Study

Study time

Type	Required
Lectures	9 sessions of 1 hour (6%)
Seminars	9 sessions of 1 hour (6%)
Private study	132 hours (88%)
Total	150 hours

Private study description

TBC

Costs

No further costs have been identified for this module.

Assessment

You must pass all assessment components to pass the module.

Assessment group A1

	Weighting	Study time
3000 Word Essay	100%
3,000 word essay

Feedback on assessment

Essays are marked according to criteria set out in the Undergraduate Handbook.

Availability

There is currently no information about the courses for which this module is core or optional.