Module aims

The financial services industry has experienced considerable regulatory reforms in recent years, post the financial crisis. This module will focus on the law, policy and practice governing the regulation of the financial services industry in the UK, post the financial crisis. It will specifically focus on the role and responsibilities of the new Prudential Regulation Authority and the Financial Conduct Authority under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000; as amended by the Financial Services Act 2012. It will specifically look at: The rationale for a 'twin peaks' model of regulation; The regulation of banking and investment business; The responsibilities of regulated firms and senior management; and The PRA's and the FCA's powers to oversee the activities of the financial services industry.
