Description

Introductory description

PH147 Introduction to PPL

Module web page

Module aims

The module will essentially comprise of three areas of study:

- a. Legal skills
- b. Academic literature/theories/debates from the intersections of politics, philosophy, and law.
- c. Core cases – legal skills plus seeing how real case law asks political and philosophical questions.

This module introduces students to a range of concepts, theories, and issues that are central to the study of Philosophy, Politics and Law.

Since students will be receiving separate training in each of the disciplines, it focuses on the intersections between the disciplines.

Outline syllabus

This is an indicative module outline only to give an indication of the sort of topics that may be covered. Actual sessions held may differ.

Please note that this is illustrative. The exact topics will change year-to-year, with input from whoever is teaching the course that year.
