Description

Introductory description

This module provides an advanced introduction to Nietzsche, one of the most seminal thinkers in the tradition of continental philosophy.

Module aims

The principal aim of this module is to provide an advanced introduction to Nietzsche. We do so by undertaking an in-depth study of one of Nietzsche's most important books The Gay Science (1882). In it, Nietzsche treats a wide variety of themes, including truth and our search for truth, the 'death of God,' the eternal recurrence, and life as an aesthetic phenomenon. We will proceed methodically through the main sections of the text, paying particular attention to the relevance of the structure and style of Nietzsche's presentation for understanding the philosophical content.
