Description

Introductory description

This module is available as an elective for both WBS and non-WBS students and Exchange students.

The rapid acceleration of new digital technologies in the workplace commensurate with the expansion of new working patterns requires deeper managerial understanding of how the “fourth industrial revolution” affects and shapes work and organisations. Advancement in digital and social technologies are shaping and changing the organisation of the workplace, as well as the nature and meaning of work. As such, students will have the opportunity to explore a digitally transformed landscape of work. Students will analyse the opportunities, as well as debate the risks of the digital workplace and, in doing so, further develop their critical thinking and ethical decision-making skills.

Module aims

This course focuses on the digital transformations taking place in contemporary workplaces and will offer students:

A multi-perspective analysis of digital technologies increasingly used in the organisation of work;
Tools to navigate the world of work as employees, managers, and entrepreneurs in the digital era;
Understand how the acceleration in technological change impact the design, sustainable development, ethical, and strategic dimensions of work;
In-depth analysis of management theories in relation to contemporary digital workplace developments;

Use of gamification, high-profile examples, and case studies of managerial practice to better understand the legal, ethical and managerial effects of digital technologies on the workplace.
