Description

Introductory description

This module provides the subject focus for the PGCE course and comprises subject knowledge, curriculum and pedagogical understanding for a range of curricular requirements (EYFS and NC), as appropriate.

Module aims

To develop the following aspects of professional and intellectual practice in the primary age range (5-11), which enables trainee teachers to meet the professional standards for a new teacher. · To demonstrate the Warwick Teacher Characteristics through their professional and intellectual understanding, attitudes and practices; · To develop trainees' attitudes and integrity to ensure high standards of professional standards in all educational contexts; · To develop advanced specialist knowledge, skills, understanding and values in the primary age phase; · To enable trainees to develop high-quality learning experiences and maximise pupil progress in a broad and balanced curriculum as appropriate to the age of the children; · To enable trainees to develop the skills of criticality necessary for making reasoned and research-informed decisions which impact positively on their practice and pupil progress; · To enable trainees to deploy a range of challenging, creative and engaging approaches to personalise teaching and learning; · To develop reflective practitioners, able to adapt and respond to changes in setting and national educational contexts.

Outline syllabus

This is an indicative module outline only to give an indication of the sort of topics that may be covered. Actual sessions held may differ.

- The nature, purpose and structure of the primary school curriculum;
- the subject knowledge, progression and pedagogy of the statutory core subjects;
- pedagogy across the wider curriculum;
- teaching, learning and assessment strategies relating to the statutory core subjects;
- planning for learning across statutory and foundation subjects;
- use of appropriate resources and technology for teaching and personal professional development;
- strategies to adapt teaching to meet the needs of all pupils;
- motivation and inspiration for teaching the primary school curriculum;

Subject specific skills

To enable trainees to meet the requirements of the Teachers' Standards. In particular trainees will learn to:

self-direction in the interpretation and application of the Warwick Teacher characteristics in their own practice;

develop systematic and critical understanding of current research-informed and evidence-based professional pedagogy as appropriate to the age-phases for which they are training;

understand the importance of positive outcomes for all pupils as a basis for evaluating successful professional pedagogy and practice;
support and develop trainees' abilities to relate theory to professional practice.
deploy a range of challenging, creative and engaging approaches to personalise teaching and learning understand and demonstrate required standards of professional behaviour;
promote positive outcomes for all pupils through linking theory with practice e.g. applying university and school-based training to their own teaching practice;
understand and apply appropriate practice to safeguard the well-being of pupils;
take responsibility for their own professional development, including through evaluation and reflection upon their own practice, engaging with feedback on their practice and target-setting to promote further progress.

Transferable skills

Trainees will develop and demonstrate:

initiative and personal responsibility:

confident and responsible decision-making in complex and unpredictable situations:

independent learning ability required for continuing professional development;

personal resilience in order to maximise own professional development;

appropriate skills to be able to work effectively as part of a team;

self-direction in the application of the Warwick teacher characteristics.
